A DELIGHTFUL RECEPTION

DANCE

The Pala Community House was more than comfortably filled on Monday night at a reception and dance in honor of Mrs. Lillian Hardy and her son Hollis, who leave early next month for an absence of a year or more at the Coast and Mrs. D. B. Murdoch and daughter, Miss Lois, just returned from the mainland.

An unusually interesting program had been arranged by Mr. Washburn Baldwin including vocal numbers by Miss Alma Morse, Mrs. A. E. Sayers and David Rattray, a reading by Mrs. C. O. Hansen an interesting little act called "The Dancing Lesson" by Mrs. Raymond Courson, Misses Tillman, Trauger, Meinecke, Robinson and Boyum; and a clever and amusing skit by Misses McLeod and Ballou.

Delicious punch was served throughout the evening, and the last dance came all too soon.

TRAINING LITTLE CHILDREN

Simple Devices for Keeping Children Happily Occupied and Mentally Active—They Also Help to Make Mother's Tasks Easier.

Suggestions by mothers who have been kindergartners. Issued by the United States Bureau of Education, Washington, D. C. and the National Kindergarten Association, 8 West Fortieth Street, New York.

BY MRS. KATHARINE CHURCH SOLOMONS.

The routine duties of the wife and mother are the same in practically all homes. Food has to be purchased and prepared; the house has to be kept clean and in order; there is shopping to be done, also sewing, mending and washing—a big item in families with young children—and there are the children.

Very often the mother would seem to have little time or strength to spend other than in attention to the children's actual physical care and requirements, and yet by a little wise thinking and arranging she can start many plays and occupations which will not only give the children pleasure and teach them how to do things but result in a quieter, easier and more joyous task for herself.

The Home Atmosphere

One of the most helpful factors in the harmonious development of mother-and-child life is a right attitude of mind. It is, of course, most desirable that it be one of contentment and peace; but too often mothers, in addition to the work of house-keeping and the bearing and rearing of children, are obliged to contend with problems of sickness and family disagreements. However, if she can meet such situations with intelligence, courage and self-control, she will create a home atmosphere which will be measureless in its influence.

The Yard

A yard can be made an ideal playground at a moderate expense. Playing in sand appeals more than anything else to children of three and four years. It will engross and keep them occupied for hours at a time. Therefore, the first thing to put in the yard is a sand box. This can be done by nailing four boards together, and partly embedding them in the ground. Babies should not be allowed to play by themselves in the sand until they are old enough to know that they should not put it in their mouths. And none of the children should be permitted to throw sand, because of the danger to the eyes.

Discarded cooking utensils and a few tin spoons give the children an opportunity to imitate mother's fascinating operations in the kitchen. In warm weather they can have water to mix with the sand. This makes the play all the more real and engrossing.

"PEP" PARTY A BIG SUCCESS

The Order of Eastern Star's "Pep" party, given last Saturday evening at the Masonic temple, Kahului, was attended by some 40 members and was literally a howling success from start to finish. Everyone present agrees that it was the funniest entertainment they ever attended. The hostesses of the affair were Worthy Matron Mrs. Pearl Engle and Associate Matron Mrs. O. J. Whitehead, and to them the fullest credit is given for the very unique entertainment.

The guests all attended in overalls or kitchen apron costumes and no one worried about spoiling his clothes.

There was a bean contest won by Mrs. C. O. Hansen; a peanut race in which Mrs. James Thompson took the prize; a cracker race won by Dr. Hansen; an egg and spoon carrying race in which Mrs. William Phillips was the winner.

Mrs. James Cumming was the successful contestant in the doughnut contest; Mrs. George Wilbur won in the drinking-water-by-the-spoonful race while James Jamieson had the honor of carrying off the nursing-bottle contest prize.

Mrs. R. A. Courson won the newspaper walking race; Mrs. J. C. Blair took the pickle contest prize; while E. R. Bevins, James Jamieson and W. H. Engle tied for honors in a hilarious suit-case and dressing race.

During the evening there was dancing; and for refreshments coffee and doughnuts were served. The affair was an unqualified success in every way.

Mrs. Robert Crook of Haiku was hostess at a delightful buffet supper last Tuesday evening. The affair was in honor of the graduating class of the Maui high school.

Proclamation Soon Of Special Election

Mode Of Procedure Now Worked Out And Supervisors Will Issue Call Next Week — Kalama's Illness Also Delayed Matter.

Some uncertainty as to the law on the subject of special elections has been the cause of the delay in issuing the proclamation for the special election which is necessary to fill the vacancy in the board of supervisors caused by the death two weeks ago of Pia Cockett. These legal uncertainties, apparently have been straightened out and the proclamation will probably be forthcoming at the meeting of the board next Wednesday.

According to County Attorney E. R. Bevins, the law on the subject of filling a vacancy in a board of supervisors by special election is somewhat contradictory, from the fact that the law-makers apparently overlooked special elections when the more recent primary election law was enacted, the question arose as to the proper procedure to get nominations and these nominations upon a ballot. Inasmuch as the law prescribes that, in so far as not otherwise provided the course shall be the same as provided for special elections for filling vacancies in the legislature, Mr. Bevins has decided that candidates for the vacant office of supervisor must file their nomination petitions, signed by not less than 20 voters, with the secretary of the territory after the board has formally proclaimed the special election and fixed the date. The territorial official mentioned will thereupon transmit the names of the candidates to the county clerk who will thereupon prepare the ballot and prepare for the election in the regular way.

A candidate, in order to get his name on the ballot, must not only have the proper petition, but must accompany it with a fee of $25, which goes towards the expense of the election.

At the present time there does not seem to be any great rush of applicants to become supervisors, the only ones who are definitely understood to be out for the place being Charles Lake, of Wailuku, a member of the board about 6 years ago, and Guy S. Goodness, of Ulupalakua.

The illness of Chairman Kalama for the past several weeks has also been a cause for the delay in getting the proclamation issued, his presence being required to make a legal quorum of the board.

The Hawaiian Rehabilitation Bill will be the first to come up on the Senate calendar, when Congress convenes in December, according to advices to the Pacific Commercial Advertiser from its Washington correspondent.
